The IFEM Endo & TRUST Fertility Advanced Training Workshop is an intensive, high-level educational program entirely dedicated to mastering fertility preservation and treatment pathways for women affected by advanced endometriosis.

Organized in Abu Dhabi at the core of the medical and surgical reference center led by Professor Horace Roman and Professor Ahmed Elbohoty, this week provides a comprehensive, immersive experience in direct engagement with specialized hospital teams.

Designed for gynecologists, fertility specialists and multidisciplinary reproductive medicine units, this immersive workshop combines:

- Live surgical demonstrations,
- Lectures covering the latest evidence and best practices in fertility and endometriosis care.
- Fertility preservation strategies and personalized treatment pathways,
- Interactive clinical case discussions.

Participants will gain a comprehensive understanding of the relationship between endometriosis and fertility, while exploring evidence-based diagnostic and therapeutic strategies.

On-site participants benefit from direct interaction with the experts through lectures, fertility-focused case discussions and multidisciplinary exchanges, while remote participants access the same high-level educational content through a structured digital format and live surgeries.

The workshop embodies the core philosophy shared by IFEM Endo and TRUST Fertility: clinical excellence, structural inter-team collaboration, cutting-edge innovation, and highly individualized patient care.
